Czarnikow Sweetens Their Employee Training with Litmos

Czarnikow is a sugar and ethanol trading, advisory, and supply chain management firm that moves four million tons of sugar around the world each year and trades products globally from 12 offices, while employing around 190 people.

The company sought a training platform that would support its international staff, who speak a variety of languages beyond English. Czarnikow selected Litmos because it's easy and intuitive for employees to access and complete courses in their language of choice. As a result, they now provide worldwide training to staff, seamlessly and in a uniform way.

They have now been able to complete over 500 hours of training in their first year using the system which they consider an extraordinary value for their money. In addition, the gamification within Litmos helps their teammates see all of the points and badges for every course they complete. Czarnikow feels they can now deepen their relationships with their clients by using Litmos.

“The scalability of using Litmos has saved us a huge amount of money.... Being able to roll it out to everyone means that we get extraordinary value for the money.”
